

September 5th, Week 1: One Way,

You can't get to the south beach by driving north, and you can't get to the top of the mountain if you are walking down it. Why? It's because our direction always determines our destination. While we all know this basic rule for navigating the roads we drive, we sometimes forget how the same rule is true in our lives. You can't lose weight by shoving down quarter pounders and watching five hours of TV. You can't have deep relationships by ignoring the living, breathing people around you. You can't grow closer to God by shutting Him out of your everyday life or failing to make the effort to know more about Him. So what is the destination you desire for your life? Are you even on the right path to get there?

1. What did you think of the talk this week? What did you hear the Pastor Eric say?
2. What do you think about the principle of sowing and reaping? Share/Write about an experience where this as been true in your life.
2. What do you think about the principle of cause and effect? Share/Write about an experience where this as been true in your life.
3. The "Path of the Principle" says that your direction determines your destination. What does that mean to you?
4. What is the problem with thinking that good intentions will lead you where you want to go?
5. How would your choices be different if you looked at them as paths rather than just choices?
- 6 Think about the following areas of your life. If you could look ten years down the road, where would you want to be? What choices will help you get there?
7. Are you currently making the choices you need to make in order to be on the path that will ultimately lead you to the destination you desire?
8. Read Proverbs 7:6-27 together. How can other people help you on your journey.
